Santa Cruz Mayor Emily Reilly is among 40 mayors from across the country attending the 2007 Sundance Summit: A Mayors' Gathering on Climate Protection.

The environmental retreat runs Sunday to Wednesday in Sundance, Utah. The event, in its third year, is co-hosted by actor Robert Redford.

At the summit, mayors will learn the latest information on global warming and steps that cities can take to confront the challenges of climate change.

Reilly is expected to join in workshops about energy efficiency and clean technologies.
